

Why You Should List With Me?

I am a Global Property Specialist

Selling homes to a global marketplace requires specific knowledge, a world of connections and a dedication to exceeding expectations.

When selling your home, it is critical that your property gets the proper attention it deserves. My experience has given me an understanding of how to show off the unique features of homes such as yours, as well as what buyers all across the world are looking for. And, when crafting a customized marketing plan for your property, I will rely on this knowledge so that your home is sold quickly and for the best price possible.

What does this mean?

1

I have the tools to translate your listing into more than 22 languages and reach over 430,000 users in 110 countries.

2

Your listing will be syndicated to more than 80 international portals including China's Fang.com, which hosts more than 3 million unique visitors per day.

3

Because Keller Williams is now in more than 30 countries, I have access to a wide network of associates around the world who can assist in connecting your property with the right buyers.
